Article VI. Leadership and Administration

Each new ministry team shall decide for itself how it will understand and undertake its mission, in conversation with other ministry teams and the Leadership Team, and in light of the work of the previous ministry team and the needs of the church. It should seek to interpret its mission broadly rather than narrowly.
3. A ministry team consists of at least two persons, each of whom normally serves a term of at least one year.
4. Ministry team members may volunteer to serve or accept that calling from others.
5. Whenever possible, one member of each of the ministry teams is also a member of the Leadership Team, so as to help coordinate communication among the teams.

5. The Leadership Team shall develop the agenda for each congregational meeting, incorporating proposals and other items requested by other members as appropriate. The agenda shall be distributed in written form at least two weeks in advance of the meeting. On the agenda, any proposal for consideration shall have indication of whether or not it should be decided upon at that meeting. The agenda may also include topics of discussion and reports or other dissemination of information, and other items of interest for which no decision need be made.
6. Decisions at all congregational meetings shall be made by consensus, but if consensus is not achieved on a proposal, it may be decided by a vote. A two-thirds majority is required for passage of the proposal. Abstentions are not counted to determine a majority.
